

Welcome to this world m'dear

A drop falls off the little eye,
To say his soul goodbye
A time so good you see,
Finished like a candle that's extinguished

The laboured love of himself,
Rue is the emotion to express,
Deep down destined to deplete,
His resources: pride and sleep

Welcome to this world my dear,
Where you shall live in fear,
Hatred, prejudice and racism
Awaits you in this fascism

Like the moon in the sky,
You shall be there, but you won't know why??
Being spotted with craters,
You shall be mocked by haters

Welcome to this world by dear,
A world of oxymorons,
Where irony takes over our hearts
And divides the world by parts

Welcome to this world by dear,
Where love is lost,
Impure hearts await you
In this deck of cards

You will lose yourself,
Your identity, your magic
And o' that will be tragic
When you realise it
You have lost your self

Welcome to this world m'dear,
Where preachers preach love and commit war,
Where your parents will be gone
Where you will be at fault, day in and day out
Where murder and crime plague our hearts
Where money has purchased your dissent
Your soul will be lost, your identity- vanished in the flame of society

Like when the clock strikes 12,
The time changes, the clock doesn't
So will you o' my!!
So will you.....
